

Three Directions.

One choice.

PHILOSOPHY

Ledger Modernism. The disciplined intersection of architectural drafting and financial accounting. The aesthetic of audited work — measurement, order, patient accumulation of decisions made well. Restraint as a virtue.

THE BUILDER

Build what compounds.

Work Sans

Speaks plainly. Clean, optical, dependable.

BODY · NEUTRAL · DEPENDABLE

POSITIONING

Evolution of the existing Workplaces brand. Doubles down on the Business Builder identity. Speaks construction and trades fluently — the language of your client base.

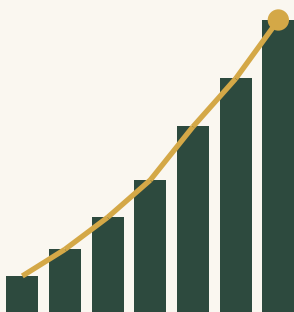

Lowest perceived risk. Highest alignment with your market today.

TopLine

Move the line. Protect the margin.

Instrument Sans

Precision. Quiet authority. Numbers read clean.

BODY · SWISS-INFLUENCED · DATA-DENSE

POSITIONING

Direct invocation of your quality gate. Outcome-named. Speaks to all industries, not just construction.

Highest brand promise. The name itself is the value proposition. Risk: narrows to financial coaching unless the methodology speaks broader.

NorthForge

Forged in the work.

Bricolage Grotesque

Modernity that does not abandon its roots.

BODY · CONTEMPORARY · APPROACHABLE

POSITIONING

Canadian Prairie heritage. Industrial honesty. Strong masculine resonance for an Edmonton-based firm serving construction and trades.

Most aspirational. Most distinctive in the coaching landscape. Highest brand-build cost — has to earn its name through the experience.

Choose by instinct, then audit by logic.

QUESTIONS TO SIT WITH

01. Which name would I be proud to say at a chamber of commerce dinner?
02. Which one fits when Workplaces has 10 coaches, not 2?
03. Which one, in 5 years, will not feel small for what we have become?

Tell me which feels right — or which two to combine.
